Carmi Baptist Orphanage Children Entertained by Local Kiwanis Club

Fifty three children from the Carmi Baptist home were special guests of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club last night at a Christmas Ladies' Night meeting at the Masonic temple. Other children at the home were unable to attend as they were playing in a ball game and were accompanied by their cheer leaders.

The children were brought to this city by bus and were accompanied by the home superintendent, Wade B. East, and his wife and children, Janet and David, and two staff members of the 21 at the home, Miss Madge Watson and Miss Mary Frances Gooch who volunteered to accompany the children to the Christmas party here.

Mr. East, who is retiring governor of Rotary, expressed his thanks to the Kiwanis club and lady guests and stated it was the first time that the children in a group had been invited to a Christmas party by a civic club. He gave a short history of the home which was established in 1917 and stated the greatest benefactor of the home had been the late C. M. Wasson of this city.

The children were presented lovely gifts from members of the Kiwanis club and their lady guests and were distributed from a beautifully decorated Christmas tree by Linda Card, one of the group of 53 children. The tree was decorated by Mrs. Ralph Woolard. Gifts were also presented to the children who were unable to attend the party. Candy also was distributed to them.

Following the dinner a beautifully decorated cake was exhibited by Lowden Pankey of Pankey's bakery, who is president of the Harrisburg Rotary club, and who cut the cake to serve with ice cream.

Turncoat Wilson Plans to Farm on 100 Acres Bought With GI Insurance

URANIA, La. (AP)—Turncoat Aaron Wilson, recently returned from Communist China, plans to turn farmer on 100 acres bought with $10,000 GI insurance paid to his family while he was believed dead.

Rep. George S. Long (D-La.) sent a telegram to the Veterans Administration Tuesday urging that the erroneous death payment be reclaimed "if it is legally and physically possible to do so."

The Daily Town Talk of Alexandria, La., reported in a copyrighted story Tuesday that the 23-year-old former soldier's mother, Mrs. Henry Wilson, refused to comment about the farm.

When Wilson finally reached his home last Dec. 7 he told a reporter he planned to begin farming but by then the publicity about the insurance payment had been forgotten.

But in 1952 published accounts of the VA's failure to collect a refund stirred a committee from the American Legion and the Red Cross to make an investigation.

Auditors Report 58 Questionables Still On Payroll

CHICAGO (AP)—About half of the persons who received $327,505 in "improper or questionable" travel vouchers from former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge still are on the auditor's payroll, an accounting firm has reported.

The auditing firm said that of 120 persons who received questionable vouchers, 58 of them still are on the payroll of interim State Auditor Lloyd Morey.

The report, from the firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., will be forwarded to Morey. The firm was hired by the state to investigate the financial mess in the auditor's office left by Hodge's 2½ million dollar embezzlement of state funds.

The firm's statement also said employees kicked back cash from travel warrants, got extra compensation from them and failed to itemize vouchers on which the warrants were issued.

Morey, when informed of the report, said the 58 persons still on the payroll will stay there as long as he is auditor. Morey, former comptroller of the University of Illinois, will be succeeded as auditor by State Sen. Elbert S. Smith of Decatur next month.

"These employees were acting under pressure," Morey said.

Satchmo Turns Concert Into Shambles As Cats, Highbrows Create Uproar

LONDON (AP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong blew the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and its angry conductor off the stage Tuesday night at a Hungarian relief concert that turned into a "shambles."

A packed audience of highbrows and jazz fans—the mink and blue jean sets—created such an uproar that Conductor Norman Del Mar gave up on any attempt to complete the classical part of the program. He stalked off.

The uproar was so great Del Mar never returned to the podium and Satchmo was unable to deliver an encore. Even London's Lord Mayor, Sir Cullum Welch was unable to make a speech of thanks.

Underestimates Lung Power The trouble started when Del Mar underestimated Satchmo's great lung power.

Del Mar, protégé of Sir Thomas Beecham and most dignified British conductor, handled the Philharmonic through Brahms' "Tragic Overture" and Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite" when Satchmo strode upon the stage with his magic trumpet in hand.

Del Mar gave the beat and his 80 piece orchestra started playing "St. Louis Blues."

From then on, Del Mar should have stayed at home.

Satchmo appeared wearing a midnight blue set of satin tails and his mouth was wide open. After each number the crew-cut college crowd and the rock-'n'-rollers roared their approval and soon the mink-and-tails set joined in and soon the joint was jumping.

"I terminated the concert because it had ceased to be a concert and had become a shambles," Del Mar said.

Satchmo was sympathetic. "The things the professor should have done was to stop the cats' shoutin' and play 'God Save The Queen' or something."

City Council Discusses Lincoln Street Paving Project for 1957

Resolution Asks Gov't to Consider Area for Prison

The Harrisburg City Council, in a lengthy meeting yesterday, discussed next year's street paving project, received a petition asking that the office of finance commissioner held by Don Williams be vacated and heard District Highway Engineer Wm. D. MacLeod again discuss Route 13 in regard to Harrisburg.

Street paving project for 1957 will be Lincoln avenue from McKinley to Dennison and Engineer R. R. Brown revealed some statistics about it. Plans are for a 30-foot street with curbing, gutters and storm sewers and a bituminous surface. The city entered into an engineering contract with Brown to make the plans and supervise the work.

Resolution on Prison Site The petition was presented to the council by Mayor Claud Gibbons, who stated it had been handed to him, and it was placed on file. It asked that Williams' office be declared vacant on grounds that he had moved outside the city limits since he was elected. About 122 names were on the petition.

The council had a unanimous vote on a resolution asking the federal government to consider the Harrisburg area for a proposed new federal prison. The government

Indian Leader Makes Report at News Meeting

Says U. S. Policy Not As Rigid As He First Thought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today he has relayed to President Eisenhower "certain complaints" made by Red China against the United States.

He said Red Chinese leader Chou En-lai, with whom he talked recently, thinks Communist China has "gone several steps forward" toward improving relations with the United States, while this country has taken no comparable steps.

Nehru also said he found in his man-to-man talks with President Eisenhower that American foreign policy "is not so rigid as I had thought."

Nehru said he has talked with Chou about releasing the 10 Americans still held prisoner in Communist China, and will again. He said he "very much" wants them released and hopes they will be freed soon.

More Understanding Appreciation In his first public report on his private conference with Mr. Eisenhower on world problems, the visiting Indian leader said he has a "much better understanding of American policy" and is now convinced that U. S. policy changes as the world situation changes.

He further believes that the United States has "more appreciation" of India's policy of "non-alignment" in the East-West struggle.

After the news conference, the Indian prime minister returned to the White House to resume the talks with President Eisenhower which brought him across half a world for a four-day state visit.

The 67-year-old Indian leader faced 300 newsmen from all parts of the world at an early morning news conference at the National Press Club auditorium. He wore his familiar white Gandhi cap, white jodhpurs and a tight-fitting, brown coat.

Other highlights of the Nehru new conference: —He said his talks here and at Gettysburg with Mr. Eisenhower had resulted in a "much better understanding of American policy."

—India is anxious that steps be taken to clear the Suez Canal as quickly as possible. But he ruled out any steps which would affect Egypt's sovereignty.

He made this statement in answering a question whether he believed there was a new United States policy towards "neutral nations."

Strong Forces of Peace Asked why he felt that the United States policy was not so "rigid" as he had thought, he said he had found that "the general approach to problems appears to be governed by appreciation of the changing world."

President Eisenhower will be Nehru's guest for dinner at the Indian Embassy tonight.

In a radio-TV address to the nation Tuesday night, the Indian prime minister said the "forces of peace are strong" and world opinion no longer will permit "powerful countries to revert to old colonial methods or to impose their domination over 'weak countries.'"

That, he said, is the lesson to be learned from the "tragedies in Egypt and Hungary."

Nehru said world opinion has shown it can organize itself to resist "outrages" like those in Egypt and Hungary. He said that "perhaps, as an outcome of these tragedies, freedom will be enlarged and have a more assured basis."

SANTA CLAUS ROUTED: 1,600 Shoppers Flee $1,250,000 Blaze

CHICAGO (AP)—Authorities today sought the cause of a $1,250,000 fire that destroyed a half-block long department store, injuring five persons and routing about 1,600 Christmas shoppers and employees, including Santa Claus.

There was no panic in the five-alarm blaze Tuesday night, despite its swift spread through stacks of merchandise and along strings of brightly colored Christmas decorations.

The council estimated that 660 persons may be killed in traffic from 8 p. m. Friday to midnight Tuesday.

The highest total for any previous holiday was 609 during the three-day Christmas holiday last year.

inhalation and were released after treatment at nearby hospitals.

Among those who fled the flames was Santa Claus, who was seen running from an exit garbed in his red suit and his flowing white beard.

The roof caved in within 30 minutes after the first alarm was sounded. Firemen said the one-story building and its contents were a total loss.

The mass of fire equipment that responded to the city's most urgent alarm created a massive traffic jam that extended for a radius of three miles around the burning building.

Some customers refused to believe the store was burning and lingered behind, during the orderly evacuation of the store.

Mrs. Helen Gartner, manager of the women's accessory department, said one customer insisted upon service during the blaze and bought some jewelry.

Joel Goldblatt, president of the store, estimated the value of the stock alone at between $650,000 and $800,000.

Police said shoppers were fortunate that the blaze smoldered for a time before racing through the building.

Shortly after the roof collapsed, the front wall of the building caved in and a 20-foot electric sign in front of the store crashed into the interior.

Timely Report on U. S.

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Realistic Americans understand that they cannot be liked by everybody in the world, and that even those who admire them will not like everything they do. Yet there are times when the criticisms leveled against this nation seem to pass all reasonable bounds.

Whatever the United States does or does not do, someone points a finger of blame. In the great postwar time of trial, we appear to have become everybody's scapegoat. Never was this truer than in the present critical days.

At such a moment, therefore, it is remarkably rewarding to learn that one outsider has stripped away the fog of confused emotion, of charge and countercharge, to look at America with rare insight, with warm-hearted tolerance, with care for a balancing of our strengths and weaknesses.

The man is Sir William John Haley, editor of the Times of London, who traveled up and down the land for seven weeks observing every facet of our life. The great bulk of his perceptive responses to this experience was made available to Americans in a series of articles distributed by NEA Service.

He declines to be scornful of this country's material progress or to see us as a "whole continent slowly being molded to the ideals of Hollywood." These he regards as "surface froth."

"Underneath," writes Sir William, "there is the great solid sea of an American nation as simple in its aspirations, as traditional in its virtues, as conscious of its high destiny as any there has ever been in the old world."

To him the fundamental key to the fulfillment of the "great American dream" is not that we have the wealth, the resources, the machines or even the know-how to realize it. It is "because it is a passionately held idea."

Since we hold so tightly to our dream, Sir William believes that the "splendid arc of American progress will soar far upwards yet."

He does not deny our mistakes, but notes that the thing "that strikes one about American enterprise of almost any kind is its humanity and good humor."

He does not pretend to be happy over our approach to the question of Suez, but he is utterly confident that in the end "ties of history, of kinship, of a common literature, of ideals bind the two great English-speaking peoples" in Britain and America.

His concluding words are a model reflecting the justice, the temperateness and the humanity of his outlook upon this land and its people:

"Of all nations, its history has a higher proportion of greatness than of baseness; of all peoples its motives are the least suspect. 'It's errors have been, and are, many. Its instincts have been,

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is on a Christmas tour of our far northern bases. During his absence, the Merry-Go-Round will be written by his junior partner.)

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Ike Wants To Clear Mother Of Ties With Jehovah's Witnesses; Labor Secretary Plans To Quit; Benson Getting Rid Of Surpluses.

WASHINGTON. — President Eisenhower, whose mother once sold Bible tracts for the Jehovah's Witnesses, is looking for a delicate way to clear the family name of this affiliation.

He is sensitive about the fact that Jehovah's Witnesses don't believe in saluting the flag or serving under arms. At the same time, he doesn't want to appear prejudiced against any religious sect.

Both Ike and his brother, Milton, have discussed the problem with spiritual advisers. But they haven't quite figured out how to disclaim Ida Eisenhower's relations with the Jehovah's Witnesses without offending the sect and perhaps stirring up charges of religious prejudice.

Inside story is that Ida was influenced in her old age by a nurse who belonged to the sect. Being Bible-minded, old Mrs. Eisenhower cheerfully agreed to help the Jehovah's Witnesses peddle Bible tracts.

Actually, both of Ike's parents were staunch members of a small sect called River Brethren. They brought the Eisenhower boys up to believe in the Bible. It was a reverent, if sometimes rowdy, household.

One teaching of the River Brethren was that only adults should participate in the formal church organization. This explains why Ike waited so long to accept church membership. Two of his brothers also waited until after marriage to affiliate with a church.

Now the Eisenhower brothers and are, magnificently right. We see the small debts from day to day. Let us look rather at the huge credit through the years.

"Amidst all the dangers that beset us we can be thankful that it is to this dynamic, humorous, impatient, impulsive, generous people there has passed the leadership of the world."

Writing thus, Sir William has performed a high service not merely for the improvement of today's unhappy relations between Britain and America, but for a wider understanding everywhere of the true qualities of our land and people.

would like to find a graceful way to announce that their mother was not, at heart, a Jehovah's Witness.

PERMANENT VACATION

Washington Whispers: Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell has told intimates he'll take a prolonged vacation in January, then make it permanent in February. Reason: He would like to make more money . . . Chubby, chipper Sen. George Bender (R., Ohio), voted out of a job last November, is angling for appointment as postmaster general. The White House is trying to coax him to settle for a post on the Subversive Activities Control Board . . . Foxy Sen. Jim Eastland (D., Miss.), white-supremacy champion, called on Deputy Attorney General Bill Rogers for a small favor. "You Republicans ought to be grateful to me," drawled the Mississippi Democrat. "I gave you five million votes." . . . The Hungarian airlift will cost the Air Force four times what the Independent Air Lines offered to do the job. Present estimates indicate the cost will run around $12 million. Yet the Independent Lines offered to fly all the Hungarian refugees to this country for $3.5 million . . . The Defense Department, however, wanted to make a grand stand gesture. So the Independent Airlines were turned down. The taxpayers are now paying the difference.

BENSON'S FEAT
Secretary of Agriculture Benson is quietly digging out from under the mountain of surplus food the farmers annually dump on him. For the first time since he became custodian of the annual avalanche, he is unloading food almost as fast as he is storing it. Biggest accomplishment: He has sold every last pound of butter that had been in danger of going rancid in government warehouses.

Benson has peddled, bartered, and donated food to almost any one who would take it. He has given it away to state governments for school lunches, to charities for foreign relief. He has traded some to hungry countries for strategic materials. He has unloaded vast quantities on the armed forces and Veterans Administration.

Of course, the taxpayers have lost money on Benson's deals, since the food has been sold at bargain prices or given away free. Yet the amazing fact is that Benson has recovered half the dollars originally spent for the surplus commodities.

In the last two years, he has moved out of government bins $1 billion worth of wheat, $800 million of cotton, $500 million butter, $265 million rice, and $175 million cottonseed oil.

Some countries have howled over the effect of this crop-dumping on the world market. But the heckled, harassed secretary is making good on a campaign promise.

Though only half the original dollar investment has been recovered, he believes it's far better for food to go into empty stomachs than to rot in government storehouses.

ISRAELI ULTIMATUM

Headlines and footnotes: Israel has served notice it will not surrender the two Egyptian islands it captured in the Gulf of Aqaba until Egypt agrees to let Israeli ships pass through the Suez canal . . . Young Luis Somoza, who stepped into his slain father's shoes as Nicaragua's president, has introduced some drastic reforms. He has started a social security program, has even given Somoza-owned utilities to the people. But, most revolutionary: He has slashed the salaries of the presidential family . . . Ablest diplomat in uniform is soft-spoken Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, Pacific Air Force commander, who can even get along with Navy admirals . . . Hottest news letter on Capitol Hill is written by tough, tenacious Congressman Jim Patterson (R., Conn.) . . . Washington District Attorney Oliver Gasch is embarrassed about his brother, Manning. Manning Gasch is not only an outspoken segregationist, but was picked up by police recently for carrying a concealed weapon. Oliver told this column emphatically that he does not agree with his brother's racial views.

EXPERT MUZZLED

The State Department has muzzled a Middle East expert whose lectures to foreign service officers have been branded as anti-Jewish. He is Edwin Wright, dean of international studies at the Foreign Service Institute, who has been ordered to cancel all outside speaking engagements and not to talk to the press.

This brusque action followed complaints that Wright's lectures at the government-run institute were loaded against the Jews. He has denied the charge.

Strongest protest was lodged by Rabbi David Panitz, prominent Washington churchman, who complained to both assistant state Secretary William Rountree and institute director Harold Hoskins.

The rabbi told them he based his accusations against Wright on notes taken by students in Wright's "A-100 Junior Foreign Service Officers' course." The State Department promptly began investigating all students' notes.

Three Changes In First 100 License Plates

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The secretary of state's office today announced assignment of the first 100 auto license numbers for 1957 Illinois licenses, with 3 changes from 1956.

No. 1 was reassigned to Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Catholic Archbishop of Chicago. A state reassignment law enables car owners to retain their license numbers from year to year.

The three changes were No. 6, unassigned last year, to Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of the governor; No. 47, reassigned from the late Federal Judge Leroy Adair, Quincy, to his widow, Mrs. Maude E. Adair; and No. 60, reassigned from the late Alonzo N. Bean, Chicago, to Oscar W. Ellis, Moline.

In addition to No. 1, the first 10 numbers were reassigned thus:

Edna H. Austin, Oak Park, 2; Mrs. Charles F. Carpenter, East Moline, 3; Charles M. Hayes, Winnetka, 4; W. E. C. Clifford, Champaign, 5; Mrs. William G. Stratton, Morris, 6; Mr. John G. Oglesby, Springfield, 7; Mary-Leigh Smart, Springfield, 8; Dr. Preston Bradley, Chicago, 9; and W. Ogden Vredenburg, Riverton, 10.

Others among the first 100 included Edward J. Barrett, Chicago, 21, and his wife, Mrs. Jeanne Barrett, Chicago, 22; Ald. Charles H. Weber, Chicago, 24; Timothy W. Swain, Peoria, 25; The Chicago Daily News, Chicago, 29; Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, Chicago, 45; The Rt. Rev. Gerald Francis Burrill, Episcopal bishop of Chicago, 46; Carl P. Slane, president of the Peoria Journal Star Inc., Peoria, 50; former Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, Chicago, 65; Roy Clippinger, publisher of the Carmi Times, Carmi, 82; William H. Harridge, Wilmette, 85; and Rep. Robert B. Chipfield (R-Ill.), Canton, 98.

In loving memory of our husband and father, Henry Lafayette Sr., who passed away Dec. 19, 1956: He little thought when leaving home.

He would return no more. That in death so soon would sleep And leave us here to mourn. I did not know what pain he bore, I did not see him die.

I only know he passed away And could not say goodbye. Gone from us is his loving face, His pleasant cheerful ways, A heart that won so many friends, In bygone happy days.

Our hearts still ache with sadness, Our eyes shed many a tear, God alone knows how we miss you, As ends these four sad years.

Sadly missed by his wife, Dorothy, and sons, Henry Jr., and Jack. 146-1

THERE'S RIGHT WAY TO DO IT—
Turkey Carving Needs Know-How

BEAUTIFUL TURKEY, CORRECTLY CARVED, is the highlight of Christmas. After the home-maker does her work, it's up to the man of the house to carve. For maximum glamour, it should be done at the table. A sharp, thin-bladed knife and a fork with a guard should be used. Enough meat should be carved at one time to serve all the guests their first helpings.

Will Not Return Strip: Israel

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion told the Knesset parliament today Israel will not return the disputed Gaza strip to Egypt.

The white-haired premier, in a speech to a packed session of the Knesset, cautiously refused to comment on reports Israeli ambassador to Washington Abba Eban said Tuesday Israel does not want the Gaza strip.

"But I would like to stress immediately that no one is entitled on behalf of the government to say anything regarding the future of the Gaza strip except that in no circumstances will Israel agree to its return to the Egyptian invaders," Ben-Gurion said.

The Gaza strip is a finger of land that juts into Israel from Egypt along the Mediterranean Coast, and some 200,000 Arab refugees are jammed into the area.

The uncontrolled movement of livestock from one range area to another is called "drift."

Mary Christmas Plans Happy New Year in Florida

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Mary Christmas is looking forward to a Happy New Year in Florida.

Miss Christmas, a business instructor at Lawrenceville High School, plans a merry Christmas at the home of her brother, Charles, in Wadesville, Ind. But she plans to spend the New Year holiday in St. Petersburg, Fla.

In the eight years Miss Christmas has been teaching, she relaxes classroom custom the week before Christmas and permits students to greet her as "Mary Christmas."

Introductions to strangers generally produce the reply, "I'm Happy New Year," says Miss Christmas.

The Christmas greeting Miss Christmas remembers best is one she got from a girl in Italy named Maria Natale—or—Mary Christmas.

Illinois Senate Republicans Re-Elect Leaders

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — State Senate Republicans have re-elected their 1955 leaders for the coming legislative session Tuesday.

Sen. Arthur J. Bidwell (River Forest) was named president pro tem and Sen. George E. Drach of Springfield was appointed majority whip.

The GOP caucus chose Edward Fernandes of Jacksonville as Senate secretary to succeed the late Edward H. Alexander, also of Jacksonville. The post pays about $5,000 for the six-month legislative session.

Eather Reich, Springfield was named Senate postmaster and Andrew Knapp of Tuscola was named sergeant-at-arms.

Sen. Everett R. Peters (St. Joseph) was re-elected chairman of the Committee on Committees.

The Republicans hold a 38-20 edge over Democrats in the Senate.

Four Arrested For Thefts of Oil Survey Maps

Gulf Employees Suspected of Million Dollar Steel

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI moved today on employees of the Gulf Oil Co. suspected of stealing $1 million worth of secret oil survey maps.

Four men, including a Texas promoter and a convicted extortionist, were arrested here Tuesday on federal charges of transporting stolen property across state lines.

Some of the maps, showing possible oil deposits in the Southwest, Canada and the Middle East, were sold and others were used for speculative drilling operations by the combine, the FBI said.

The maps were reported to have been stolen from the Gulf Oil Co. offices in Pittsburgh by an employee who became deeply in debt to New York racketeers from gambling losses. The names of the employee and other Gulf personnel suspected of being involved in the thefts were not revealed. The FBI said they would be released later.

One Man in Prison

One of the men arrested here was Emmanuel Lester, 32, who is in city prison awaiting sentence for attempting to extort $535,000 from financier Serge Rubinstein before Rubinstein was murdered in his lavish Fifth Ave. home.

Another under arrest is Col. Odie Seagraves, a one-time associate of Rubinstein and an oil promoter who is reported to have made millions in oil operations in the 1920's. He has homes in New York, Havana and Houston. Seagraves denied being involved in the thefts.

Also arrested were Edward Lieberman, 30, president of the U. S. Tackless Corp. and a brother of Lester, and John Marvin Leivia, 34, of Orange, Tex., a geologist.

Hubert I. Teitelbaum, first assistant U. S. attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania who is here in connection with the case, said Gulf officials have known about the map thefts for some time.

He said the Lester group in collaboration with a few Gulf employees had pilfered the seismicographic maps from the company files. The maps were taken to various states and to New York City, where they either were offered for sale or used in the group's own drilling operations.

One collection of the maps was offered for sale at a price of $500,000, the FBI said. Another set was offered for $50,000.

City Council Discusses 1957 Street Project

it would not be far away from the outskirts of the city. If a city street were decided upon, he said, the division would come before the council with a concrete proposition.

In answer to a question by Bernie Moore, he said that the highway division might by-pass the city although the majority of the residents wanted the route to pass through the center of town. He said if there is a sufficient volume of through traffic that the majority of the motorists should not be penalized by making them go thru the city. Moore replied that he believed the big majority of traffic is local.

MacLeod did say, however, that if there were a by-pass constructed, there probably would be an alternate route through the city, but could not say so definitely at the present time.

Engineer Brown stated that work is progressing very favorably on the new settling basins at the water plant, where there had been persistent leaking of water.

Commissioner Williams brought up the subject of changing to new type street lights and the possibilities of getting a new system will be investigated.

Work on Parking Lot

Commissioner Morris Darnell submitted the appointment of Bill Williams to the library board, to succeed the late Dennis B. McGehee, and the appointment was confirmed.

Work on the new city parking lot immediately east of the Womack hotel and the Lamplery store—between Poplar and Locust—is under way and Street Commissioner Sneed Jordan said that motorists who desire may park on it now during the Christmas shopping rush.

Meters will be installed later but right now the public may feel free to use the lot, he stated.

Next council meeting will be Jan. 8.

Fined

Emmerson Lee McDonald of McLeansboro yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor when arraigned before Police Magistrate Vern Joyner Jr. He was fined $150 and costs. McDonald was arrested in uptown Harrisburg about 1:30 p. m. yesterday by City Police Chief Ross Lane.

Hodge, Epping Questioned About Lobbying Fee

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Two federal Securities and Exchange Commission officials questioned former Illinois auditor Orville Hodge and his ex-office manager Edward Epping in Menard State Prison Tuesday about a $35,000 lobbying fee paid by Union Electric Co. of St. Louis.

Frederick Zazove, chief counsel of the division of corporate registration of the SEC, told a reporter that Hodge was "very co-operative" in answering questions. He declined to say whether the information he and Robert N. Hillsop, trial attorney for the SEC, obtained would be turned over to the federal grand jury.

The Washington officials declined to elaborate further on their 6 1/2 hour session with Hodge and Epping.

Dulles Plans to Remain as Sec'y of State

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles, appearing hale and hearty despite his recent cancer operation, is planning to stay on as secretary of state for a long time.

There had been speculation that Dulles might resign soon, but he is busy charting his future activities in the No. 1 cabinet post. He tentatively plans to fly to the Far East next March to attend a meeting at Canberra, Australia, of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization.

Dulles hasn't talked about resigning despite his Nov. 3 operation for intestinal cancer. The best guess is that Dulles won't think about quitting until he reaches his 70th birthday on Feb. 25, 1958.

Some people believe chances are about 50-50 that Dulles will stay on for all of President Eisenhower's second term, depending, of course, on the President's wishes and his health.

Newsmen who saw Dulles Tuesday for the first time in a month marvelled at his appearance of excellent health. At his first Washington news conference since Oct. 16, Dulles answered questions for more than 45 minutes.

Probe Confession In Deaths of Boys 14 Months Ago

CHICAGO (AP) — Erwin Staad, 32, walked into a police station at 3 a. m. today and gave officers a statement saying he and "some other men" murdered three young boys whose bodies were found in a forest preserve near Chicago 14 months ago.

Police said Staad told them his conscience bothered him and he gave them a three-page statement about the slaying of the boys—John Schuessler, 13, his brother, Anton, 11, and Robert Peterson, 13.

Police said they did not know whether to believe his tale. Chief of Detectives Pat Deeley sent a special squad to investigate and check the statement.

According to authorities, Staad said he and other men put the three boys in a car, took them to Robinson's woods, and beat them to death.

Open Verdict in Death at Cairo

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — A coroner's jury returned an open verdict Tuesday night in the death of a Sparta, Ill., man outside a Cairo, Ill., night club.

The jury washed its hands of the situation by ruling Donald McConachie, died "as the result of skull injuries, causes unknown."

The action was necessary, according to Cape Girardeau prosecuting attorney Steve Limbaugh, because McConachie died in Missouri.

Limbaugh said any further action would have to come from Illinois authorities.

Nixon Arrives In Austria on Refugee Mission

VIENNA (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in Austria tonight to take a first-hand look at the problems involved in the great mass refugee flight from Hungary.

As Nixon's special plane from Washington landed at Vienna's Schwechat Airport, almost the first persons he saw were 72 Hungarian refugees from Communist rule waiting to take off for a new life in America.

They were the latest group of more than 11,000 Hungarians already in or en route to the United States under President Eisenhower's plan to admit a total of 21,500 victims of Communist terror.

The official Soviet newspaper, in a dispatch broadcast by Moscow radio, said Nixon's trip was "gross interference" in the affairs of other nations and violated U. S. pledges to respect the permanent neutrality of Austria.

Nixon, on a personal mission for President Eisenhower, arrives here today on the tour that will take him close to the Iron Curtain. Fog prevented his arrival at Vienna.

More than 130,000 Hungarians braved Communist border fire to seek haven in Austria, and 100,000 still are being cared for there. The United States has agreed to take in 21,500 and the President hopes the figure can be increased.

No Holiday Patrol By Guardsmen

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois National Guardsmen will not be called on for highway patrol duty during the Christmas and New Year's holidays, the governor's office announced today.

Gov. William G. Stratton called out the National Guard last New Year's weekend after a "black Christmas" weekend in which more than 60 persons died as a result of automobile accidents.

All state policemen will be on duty during the holidays.

Reveal Non-Stop B47 Flights

DENVER (AP) — One thousand B47 jet bombers flew non-stop missions averaging 8,000 miles each early in December in the Strategic Air Command's largest operational exercise, it was revealed Tuesday.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, told the cadet corps at the Air Force Academy that the "intensive exercise," which ended Dec. 11, consisted of "realistic combat training missions" over the North American continent and the Arctic.

The B47s flew a total of eight million miles, Twining said, in a "dramatic example of our deterrent air power... these missions demonstrated our capability to launch a retaliatory strike force in minimum time."

Twining said he believed the Soviet Union has a bigger air force than our own, but ours is better.

Same Hair, Coats, Cars

HOPEWELL, N. J. (AP) — Two woman drivers were given summonses Tuesday for trying to enter the approach to a one-way bridge at the same time. After their collision they stared at each other. Both were red-haired, wearing identical coats and driving red-and-beige two-toned cars.

Gift On the Wing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A cock pheasant swooped down on a decorated Christmas tree on a busy downtown intersection Tuesday and settled for a rest. It was like a Christmas present for one spectator, probably a frustrated hunter, who grabbed him and walked off.

Named for the Ute tribe of Indians, Utah originally was called Deseret, a name used in the Book of Mormon, meaning "honey bee."

More than one-half the members of the first regiment of the Arizona national guard were Indians.

Curtice Predicts Auto Industry To Lead Economy

By HARLOW H. CURTICE
President, General Motors Corp.
Written for United Press

The automotive industry will be a leader in a steadily expanding national economy during 1957, providing, of course, that world peace can be maintained.

Our industry should produce and sell domestically approximately 6,500,000 automobiles and 900,000 trucks. This is about 10 per cent over 1956 for passenger cars. Total production, including Canada and export to other markets, should approximate 8,300,000 cars and trucks.

This market growth will be in line with a further upward trend in general business activity. Our national gross product for 1957 should be somewhere in the neighborhood of 435 billion dollars, with disposable income reaching possibly 300 billion dollars as against 287 billion in 1956.

We also can look forward to another year of substantially full employment. On this basis, and with a prevailing confidence in our economy, personal consumption expenditures should also continue to increase from current levels.

Although it has been historically proven that prosperity and progress are not based on war or peak level defense expenditures, we can look forward to somewhat higher spending in that area, too. This should be in the neighborhood of 42 billion dollars. Other government spending—federal, state and local—also should rise some.

The construction industry, which set new highs in each of the last four years, should also continue its upward trend. Housing starts should remain steady with more emphasis on non-residential building.

With the new highway program just getting under way, spending for highways should be at least 750 million dollars above 1956, or a total of around 8½ billion dollars.

The tremendous demand for capital equipment will continue in 1957 and expenditures are even expected to show an increase.

These figures can add up to but one thing—another good business year in 1957. My confidence in this, of course, is premised on our continuing successful effort in maintaining peace in the world.

230,000 Aliens To Report in Chicago District

Robert H. Robinson, district director of the Chicago office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, estimated today that more than 230,000 aliens will report their address in the Chicago District in January under the Federal Alien Address Report program.

The Immigration official said that about 220,000 aliens reported their address during January 1956. The announcement followed a statement from Washington in which Immigration and Naturalization Commissioner J. M. Swing estimated that more than 2,750,000 aliens in the United States will report their address next month in compliance with the law.

Commissioner Swing said in Washington that with few exceptions every alien in the United States must report his address to the Service under the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

Mr. Robinson of the Chicago office said that all non-citizens except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives assigned to the United Nations, and Mexican national contract laborers are required to file the address report.

He added that any alien who willfully violates the address report requirement may be fined up to $200, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

In addition, aliens who are not in the United States during January must report their address to the Service within 10 days after their return.

The District Director said that address report cards will be available at the Immigration Service office at the New Post Office Building in Chicago, and local United States post offices beginning January 1, 1957.

Dan wheeled about.

"Hal, out the back way. Don't let them see you!"

Crane gave him a single, startled look. He stood indecisive a second and then strode swiftly to the rear of the store. Dan heard the back door close and he watched the approaching outlaws with more confidence.

Pace led the other two. He opened the door and came in, pale eyes sweeping the room and then resting on Dan and Ernie. Juarez and Egan, looking mean and dangerous, glowered about the room. Pace nodded to Ernie and then looked sharply at Dan.

"Don't you stop when someone calls you?"

Dan managed a look of surprise and Pace shrugged.

"Where's Hal Crane? I saw him come in here."

"Where?"

Dan shrugged. "I don't know. What do you want with him?"

Pace smiled and his face looked angelic except for the eyes. "Why, we want to give him a dose of lead, Murdock. Things have changed considerably since morning."

"I guessed it," Dan said. He shot a glance at Vic. "I suppose you want the whole town."

Pace cocked his head to one side, considering, and his smile grew brighter. "Maybe, I'll decide about the town. It's mine now, you know. But I was mainly thinking about the company of a certain young lady. Thought I'd tell you so you could keep your distance. I've already warned Starrett."

Dan's face turned pale and Pace awaited, watching, the smile touching the red lips.

He checked, his attention held by something down the aisle. He walked to the display of hats, reached for a pearl-gray one, examined it. Vic edged toward him. "You like it, Mr. Odium? It's the very best."

Pace put it on, curved the brim. He looked at himself in the mirror, then picked up his old, battered hat and sailed it to the back of the store.

"It fits. I'll take it," Pace said. He started back up the aisle, leaving Vic standing, mouth sagging with surprise.

"Mr. Odium! Mr. Odium! You didn't pay me!"

Pace halted, turned slowly, red lips pursed.

"So I didn't. I guess one slug's enough."

His hand blurred and the gun blasted. Vic spun half around and fell back against the counter, catching himself. His eyes were round with fright and surprise and he lifted his hand to his side. His lips moved soundlessly and then he slowly turned half around and crumpled in the aisle. Ernie screamed.

"Keep the change."

He touched his hat brim in a mock salute and left.

Dan shouted at Bob.

"Take care of your Dad. Art, go get Doc Langer and bring him here."

As Dan had hoped, the bullet had ripped through Vic's side low on the hip. It had struck no organs but Doc guessed that it might have grooved the hip joint. There was a chance Vic would always have a stiff leg.

Art Frazin, after hurrying back with Doc Langer, stood in the aisle close to his father, watching the doctor examine and bandage the wound. His face had grown steadily more pale, held a greenish hue for a time and then cleared again, back to a strange white that made the freckles stand out like pennies. His lips quivered several times and he made a visible effort to control his tears.

Suddenly Art Frazin could hold himself in no longer.

"I did it," Art sobbed. "I did it, and look what it caused. It's my fault."

Bob's fingers tightened around the slender arm. "You did what?"

Art spoke between sobs. "I... sort of figured the outlaws... were real men... Up to now I liked 'em... I listened when you... and Pop and Dan talked about the gun..."

Dan stepped forward to the boy.

"What about the gun?"

"I slipped out... told Mr. ... Mr. Bruhn about it. They knew before you... started over there."

"Why, you crazy, pigheaded runt!" Bob said savagely and his hand smacked across the boy's face. Art fell back, arms up across his head, fearing more blows. Dan quickly stepped in between the two brothers, forcing Bob back.

"Take it easy, Bob. He's just a kid."

"But he told—"

"Sure. It robbed us of our chance and this wouldn't have happened today. Art was just a kid putting some hardcases up on a monument where they didn't belong. Now he knows better and he'll never go wrong again. You can't punish him any more than he's doing to himself... and will keep on doing, every time he looks at Vic. Leave him alone, Bob. We've got more important problems."

"I ought to—"

Bob started but Dan pointed to Vic on the stretcher.

"You ought to get your Dad home and in bed."

Bob glared at his younger brother, then grimly nodded and turned to the stretcher. Dan helped them carry Vic home, a touchy job because of the occasional patches of glare ice. Mrs. Frazin held grimly to her emotions and supervised placing her husband in the bed, then practically shoved the men out of the house.

127 Traffic Deaths in State During November

SPRINGFIELD — A total of 127 persons died on Illinois highways during November, boosting the total for the first 11 months of the year to 1,928, the State Highway Division reported today.

The November figure was about 13 per cent below the 227 traffic fatalities in Illinois in November, 1935. The 11-month total was about 1 per cent below the 1,948 killed in the same period last year.

The national trend showed a 5 per cent increase for the 11-month period.

State safety officials warned, however, the critical holiday period may raise the total fatalities for the year to a considerably larger figure if motorists do not take more than usual care in driving.

Gov. William G. Stratton also urged drivers to exercise extra caution while driving during the Christmas-New Year's period. "If we all take a little more time to get where we are going . . . we will continue to improve our traffic record," he said.

There are four basic types of clouds: cirrus, stratus, nimbus and cumulus.

Army Reorganization Plan Will Reduce Manpower of Divisions

WASHINGTON — The Army in the coming two years will cut the size of most of its divisions by one-fourth as part of an atomic age streamlining program, Army sources disclosed today.

The reorganization plan, which is still classified "secret," will result in about 60,000 troops being removed from the combat forces of the Army. The Army feels, however, that this reduction will be more than offset by the greater firepower of new weapons and the increased mobility of the reorganized divisions.

Under the reorganization, the size of the 12 infantry divisions will be cut from the present 17,500-man strength to about 13,500. The two airborne divisions, now numbering 17,500 men, will be cut even sharper—to about 11,500 men.

The three armored divisions with 14,500 men apiece, will be only slightly reduced in strength.

The overhaul will start with Army divisions stationed in this country so as not to reduce the combat readiness of the Army too greatly during the reshuffle. The streamlining is scheduled to be completed by mid-1958.

The streamlining is designed to give Army divisions a mobility and flexibility necessary for combat on an atomic battlefield. As viewed by Army planners, ground warfare in the atomic age will be widely dispersed and fought by small units that quickly assemble for a break-through and then scatter again so as not to present a profitable target.

Instead of the traditional division organization of three regi-

What does Christmas do to you? Does it give you a lift as you look forward to a different kind of holiday? We enjoy quite a few holidays in America. Each one has its own significance. Each one gives a relief from the routine of living. Yet Christmas is different. We spend many days looking forward to the whole season. We want to give of what we have. We want to share our beliefs and hope with others. We come near to real love in this celebration of the birth of the Savior.

Every little detail of preparation saves us from the selfishness and the hatred which appeal to our baser sides of life during much of the year.

If we had the spirit of Christmas all year round we might have less war, less misunderstanding and more peace.

Wilt Double-Teamed, Sub Paces Kansas

By United Press
Don't believe all that guff about Kansas being a one-man team. Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain may be grabbing all the headlines for the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, but it was Ron Johnston, a substitute forward from Sea Cliff, N. Y., who led the Jayhawks to a come-from-behind 66-56 victory over California Tuesday night.

Kansas fell behind the Bears in the opening minute and didn't catch up until midway in the second half when a basket by Lew Johnston put the Jayhawks ahead, 47-45. It was still nip-and-tuck until Johnston took over and netted six straight points to give Kansas a 60-53 lead with less than three minutes remaining.

Johnston wound up with only eight points, but it was his clutch shooting that turned the tide for Kansas.

Chamberlain, meanwhile, was double-teamed by the Bears and had to settle for 23 points—well below his average 40-point output. It was the Jayhawks' fifth straight victory and concluded a successful three-game Western tour.

Royal Named U. Of Texas Coach

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Young Darrell Royal, flashy quarterback of the national champion 1949 Oklahoma Sooners, Tuesday was named head coach of the University of Texas.

Royal, who leaves the University of Washington for a five-year contract at an undisclosed salary, inherits a Longhorn team that won one game and lost nine this past season.

Royal, 32-year-old Hollis, Okla., native, will officially succeed Ed Price Jan. 1. Price, who served six years (five of those with the best record in the Southwest conference) at an annual salary of $12,500, resigned during the season after a wave of effigy hangings.

Stengel, Tebbetts Managers of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs, a pair of pilots from entirely different schools, were named the major league's managers of the year today by the United Press.

Both the 67-year-old Stengel, winner of his sixth world championship this year, and the 45-year-old Tebbetts, who led Cincinnati to a surprisingly strong third place finish in the National league, won the titles by overwhelming margins.

Bill Russell Watches Celtics Lose, 110 to 99

By United Press
Big Bill Russell watched his new teammates, the Boston Celtics, in action from the bench Tuesday night and Coach Red Auerbach hoped the highly regarded collegian, who led the U. S. team to victory in the Olympics, learned a thing or two.

Russell, the star player on the University of San Francisco's national champion team last year, is expected to make his first start in the National Basketball Assn. ranks Saturday night when the Celtics play the St. Louis Hawks in a televised game from the Boston Garden.

However, despite a dazzling 35-point performance by Bob Cousy, the Celtics dropped a 110-99 decision to the New York Knickerbockers in the second game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. Boston had little to offer Cousy and was never closer than seven points after the first half.

The victory enabled the third-place Knicks to move to within a half game of second-place Philadelphia and 3½ games of pace-setting Boston in the Eastern Division race.

A brilliant 30-point performance by Bob Pettit carried the Hawks to a 95-84 victory over the Fort Wayne Pistons in the opener. Pettit, performing equally as well on defense, helped his club to its third win in the last 15 games.

Ridgway Defeats Equality, 58-57, To Win Invitational Tournament

Cave-in-Rock Wins Consolation From Shawneetown

Ridgway won championship honors of the Equality Invitational Basketball tournament by taking a thriller from the host club Tuesday night, 58-57.

For a time it looked as though Equality's long quest for top honors in its own tournament would be successful in this, the 11th annual invitational affair staged at the holiday season. But favored Ridgway hung on to win.

Paced by terrific outside shooting by Glover and Smith in the last half, Equality came from a 29-19 halftime deficit to finally overhaul Ridgway and take a 55-52 lead with 2:51 remaining to be played.

However Ridgway staged a comeback. Suttner hit two free tosses, Drone connected from the field and Suttner made two additional charity throws to run the score to 58-55 with less than a minute to play.

Only scoring during the remainder of the game was Glover's two free tosses to move losing Equality to within one point, close, but not enough.

Ridgway's accuracy at the free throw line decided the game. Ridgway connected 22 times in 28 tries, while Equality was just under .500, scoring on nine free throws and missing ten. And six of Equality's ten misses were on the first throw of a one-and-one situation, a potential twelve points.

Roger Suttner, 6-8 Ridgway center, was particularly effective at the free throw line with a 9-1 record. Coupled with six field goals he came up with 21 points, high for the game.

Terry Glover, Equality's little guard, scored 20 points to lead his team.

Cave-in-Rock's consolation victory over Shawneetown developed into a real close ball game in the last quarter.

As the final frame got underway the Rockers had a commanding 56-33 lead. Then Stewart and Cox rallied the Shawneetown

Grant Asylum to 40 Olympic Athletes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is granting asylum to 40 Olympic satellite nations who have refused to return to their homelands.

Among them is Laszlo Tabori, Hungarian track star, who ran the mile in three minutes, 59 seconds at London May 28, 1955, missing the world mark set by John Landy of Australia by only one second.

Thirty-five of the athletes being granted asylum are Hungarians, four are Romanians and one Czech.

Seven Greater Egyptian Loop Fives in Action

All seven of the Greater Egyptian conference teams were in action Tuesday, but there were no conference games.

Four of the loop members—Ridgway, Equality—Cave-in-Rock and Shawneetown—were playing in the 11th annual Equality Invitational Holiday tournament, which was won by Ridgway.

In other action involving GEC teams Galatia travelled to Christopher and dropped a 58-53 decision. Pope County lost at Vienna 49-37 and Rosiclar walloped Joppa 79-33.

In the Galatia - at - Christopher game the Saline county crew went to the free throw line 12 times and hit 11. Only two players were involved in the free shooting, with McFarland hitting 11 for 11 and Tate missing his only effort. McFarland was the game's top scorer with a total of 27. Neal led Christopher with 22.

Rosiclar found Joppa no match, jumping out to an 11-4 quarter lead and extending the advantage with each period of play.

Nelson was the winners' top scorer with 16 points.

Former GEC member Vienna overcame a Pope County first quarter lead and went on to a 49-37 decision. Four Vienna players were in double figures with Fairless' 14 tops.

King was leading point maker for Pope County with 12.

Three conference games are on tap for Friday: Cave-in-Rock at Ridgway, Galatia at Shawneetown and Rosiclar at Pope County. Equality will be idle until after the holidays.

Terriers Pull Away In Final Minutes in Fast-Moving Contest

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs played one of their best basketball games of the year last night before losing, 71 to 65, to a Carbondale team that has lost but one contest this season—to Pinckneyville, No. 1 team in the state.

The game was played at Davenport gym before a sparse gathering and those who stayed away missed a fine tilt.

The Bull Dogs were only three points behind, 63-60, with but four minutes left in the game, but four straight free throws and two baskets while Harrisburg was making but five points gave the contest to the Terriers by five points.

Harrisburg led at halftime, 39-37, and after dropping behind 48-41 early in the third quarter, pulled up to 50-49 with two minutes left in the period. At that point two Carbondale free throws and a technical gave the Terriers a four-point lead and Harrisburg never quite caught up again.

Stone, Zeigler Pace Locals

The locals played a fast-moving game that had the bigger Terriers in confusion a number of times. In fact, they looked very good except in the box score.

John Zeigler carried the scoring load for the Bull Dogs in the first half, scoring all of his 18 points the first two periods. Wayne Stone picked him up the last half, scoring 18 of his 25 points during the third and fourth stanzas, including seven straight free shots.

Lovelace for the third straight year broke the back of the Bull Dogs with his jump shot from about 12 or 13 feet out. He used it well last night in picking up 23 points.

The game was so close and fast that both Coach John Dotson of Harrisburg and Bill Raines of Carbondale used but six players each. Carbondale led 22-18 at the quarter and with less than two minutes left in the half held a 35-30 margin. But Harrisburg put on a scoring spree that gave them 21 points for the quarter and a 39-37 half-time lead.

Bull Pups Win

The third quarter really hurt the Bull Dogs as they were outscored, 20 to 10, and although they came back the last period they could not overcome the lead.

In the preliminary game the Bull Pups had a fairly easy time with the Carbondale freshman-sophomore outfit, winning 55 to 44 in a game where Coach Lawrence Caluffetti's entire squad saw action.

Harrisburg led 16-13 at the quarter, 29-18 at the half and 47-33 at the end of the third period. Scorers were Maynard with 18, Pickford with 2, Wasson 1, Kane 10, Pavelonis 15, Stone 8 and Fleming 1. Beggs, Beal and Stricklin also played.

Harrisburg has two more games this week, both South Seven contests. Friday night the team travels to West Frankfort and Saturday will entertain Centuria.

Elder T. Leo Dodd Speaks
To Brushy Parents, Teachers

The Brushy P.T.A. speaker for Thursday evening was Elder T. Leo Dodd of Eldorado who talked on the subject "The Child," which is the organization's theme for the year.

Some quotations from Mr. Dodd's speech were: "Rearing children is a full time job; we extend our lives through our children. Definitions of a child as given by the speaker were: 'A child is a blob of humanity half way between you and TV;' 'a child is a stomach surrounded by curiosity;' 'a child is a pain in the neck when he is around, and a pain in the heart when he isn't.'"

Mr. Dodd spoke of his 31 years of teaching school, 17 of them as principal of Eldorado high school where he issued 1827 diplomas.

The meeting opened with group singing of "Silent Night" and with prayer by Rev. Dodd. Patty Karnes gave the salute to the flag. Mrs. Wilma Gidcomb's room received the attendance banner.

The group voted to buy trays for the lunch room. Refreshments were served in the dining room at the close of the formal session.

It was announced that the Christmas program would be given Dec. 21 at 7 p. m. and all patrons are invited.

Mrs. Bedie Harris was called to Pontiac, Mich., Tuesday because of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Carlton Lewis. She was accompanied by another daughter, Mrs. Henry Doran, of Murray, Ky.

Mrs. Walter Lee Golliber was hostess Thursday afternoon to the Mt. Moriah W.S.C.S. Mrs. Grover Abney led the meeting. A bake sale for missions was held at the close of the devotional session.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baker of Carbondale have taken up residence at the Good Shepherd nursing home in Galatia. The Mt. Moriah pastor, Rev. Irvin Braden, and the Clifford Knight family provided the devotional services Sunday afternoon at the rest home.

Rev. Smith Williams, formerly of West Frankfort, but now of Oklahoma, has been engaged to preach for the Mt. Moriah revival in February beginning on Monday the 18th.

The community desires to express sincere wishes for speedy return to health of the following neighbors who are ill: Aunt Mary Riegel, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Riegel, A. J. Droit and Mrs. Logan Kelley.

Mrs. Paul Droit, who was scheduled as hostess to the Good Neighbor club for December, has postponed the meeting until early in January due to illnesses in the families of the club members. The meeting date will be announced later.

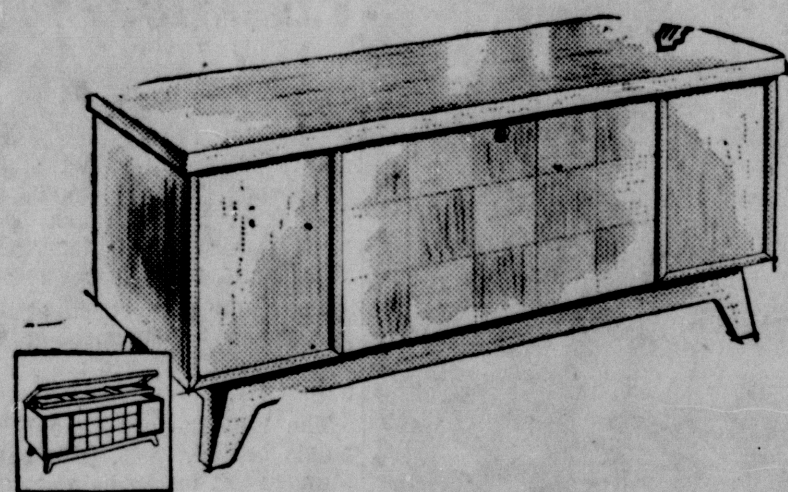

Rev. and Mrs. Irvin Braden and daughter, Evaleen, plan to spend the Christmas holidays with Miss Marlene Braden and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tate and family of Pontiac, Mich. Rev. Braden announced a watch night service to be held at Lone Oak church to which the public is invited.

Southern Illinois University's first bachelor's degrees in agriculture were granted at the end of the 1955 summer session.
